Another Important Meeting Scheduled Monday Morning At 10 O'Clock At Cardwell

An important meeting of Lake Okechobee Region farmers is scheduled for 10 a. m. next Monday at Cardwell's packing house at Cardwell. A special committee, appointed two weeks ago, will present plans for a permanent farmers' organization.

The committee, during the past two weeks, has been busy investigating other farmers' set-ups throughout the state, and a definite plan will be presented to the growers next Monday morning. Growers on the shore of Lake Okechobee have long needed such an organization and next Monday's meeting may mark an interesting day in Everglades agricultural activities.

Another important item on the program will be the appearance of Allison P. French, representative of the federal government, who will discuss the new inflation law and its effect on Everglades agriculture.

Every farmer, large or small, should make it a point to attend next Monday morning's meeting. Vital issues will be discussed as they affect labor and labor prices. It is also imperative that every grower in the Lake Region be present in order that all may have a voice in selecting officers for the proposed organization — an organization which should have lasting effects in this vast agricultural empire.

MOSQUITO SPRAY

A substance has been found which is sure death to mosquito larvae but harmless to fish and mammals which has been found. highly effective as a surface spray. It is reported that this spray has rid large areas of both salt and fresh waters of the pest at cost not prohibitive, and that for some type of salt-marsh mosquitoes the material may be dusted over the surfaces by plane. On the upper portions of the canalized Warrior river in Alabama control is effected by holding the impounded waters long enough periods at given levels, for this practice destroys the larvae, which also will not live in flowing streams.

Many species of fish live on the eggs and larvae of mosquitoes and their work is of stocking and culture of the waters with the suitable types, including the most effective of all, the top minnow, gambusia. To make successful use of this technique, the mosquito project to cover a large area, far while some species do not travel far from their place of origin, perhaps not more than a few hundred feet, others have been found as far as 15 miles away. — Orlando Sentinel.

BRING ON THAT WAR

"When do we fight? Being soldiers, we have sat around for months now, waiting for that question to be answered for us. It hasn't been."

Meanwhile the wounds of the world have been gouged deeper, and salt has been poured into the wounds. We came here to fight. Instead we have listened to sales talk as if someone were trying to sell us the idea of fighting.

These facts we hold to be self-evident: That we need the plane, the gun, the ordinance, the transport to win this war. We know, furthermore, that the world at war is a vast maze of complicated problems in logistics and transport and production and we know that fronts are hard to open.

We came here to fight. We have waited. Complex be the world or not, we came here to fight. We did not come here to wait.

Did they wait at Dunkirk for some military to come and lead a fleet of luxury liners to come and take them home? Did they wait at Tobruk for air-conditioned barracks? Or over the channel in September, 1940, did they sit around and wait for a new catalogue of fighter planes to hurl at the enemy?

The marines have had their first offensive crack at the enemy in the Solomon Islands. The navy has had its crack at the Axis all over the world. The air force has knocked silly certain of the enemy emplacements. However, their action alone will not win the war, and we know it. The greater burden lies with the army, and the army has not had its chance at offensive action.

We know that only the warrior is the conqueror, and we cannot win this war without fighting. It is not easy. It is never going to be easy to open a front or start fighting. But as soldiers we came here to fight. When in God's name do we fight? — AEF "Yank."

And after carefully reading all the directions, mix the paint and prepare to attack the unsympathetic breadwinner most effectively.

I mounts a shaly stepladder and starts slapping frantically at the ceiling where the new-fangled "roller-brush" the salesman had wished on me. The paint lists itself in a big way—great gobs down from my arm, splash in my hair and eyes, and a small, a very small, portion sticks to the ceiling.

The law of gravitation seemed to be perfect working order. No matter which hand I used or how hard I tried, I would get twice as much paint on myself and the rest of the room as I got on the ceiling.

In less than twenty minutes the room looked like the wrath of God. We got paint everywhere but the right place. Even the cat is decorated with yellow pugil until she looks like something you see in a bad dream.

Then I am banished to the washroom in disgrace. And Mamma takes over to bring order out of chaos. Confidently she ascends the ladder and prepares to show me how it is done.

She was even more successful than I was in decorating the landscape. After half a dozen splashes on the ceiling she gives up and we send for assistance. The paint salesman who had told her how simple it was, and who so ably demonstrated how a child could paint anything blindfolded with one arm in a sling, comes to set us right.

But the salesman didn't have any better luck than we do, with the result we have completely discolored a gallon of paint, mixed up everything in sight, and concluded maybe it might be best to employ a professional painter. All of which only goes to show what can happen to a person if not leaving well enough alone. And if I ever meet up with the dumb old who originated the saying "If you want a thing done well, do it yourself," I'll crown him with a freshly opened bucket of yellow wall paint, so help me.

Florida Starts On Its Second Hundred Million In Bonds

Floridians Have Purchased
Nearly 6 Million Monthly
Since May, 1941

Jacksonville, Oct. 15 (FNS)—Florida started on its Second Hundred Million Dollar War Bond sale campaign on Oct. 1, and we are confident that the first hundred million was the hardest," said John L. Faha, Florida administrator for war savings.

Mr. Faha stated that W. W. McEachern, president of the Union Trust Company of St. Petersburg and been appointed chairman of the Florida War Savings Committee, succeeding Major Linton E. Allen, of Orlando, who has been called for special service with the army.

The people of Florida have purchased an average of $3,823,350 worth of war bonds each month since May 1, 1941, and has consistently led other southern states in volume of sales.

Outstanding among the programs in the immediate future, Florida will have the largest group of the nation picture industry in September, are Payroll Allotment, 75 Schools at War, Red Cross, Victory, and Women's War Bonds.

"Eighty five per cent of the bonds sold to date has been through banks. Since then bank has been through banks.

"Daddy" Fagg To Be Honored For His Splendid Work

Jacksonville, Oct. 15 (FNS)—Forty years ago when dependent children were of no concern to either the state or federal government, a group of charitable and generous-hearted individuals got together in Jacksonville on November 2nd to organize The Children's Hospital of Florida.

Since then the organization has grown until now it operates: receiving homes in Miami, Lakeland and Gainesville, as well as the parent home in Jacksonville.

Forty thousand homeless children have been given aid, care and attention during the 40-year period. The generous people of Florida have contributed voluntarily over three and a half millions of dollars to this worthy cause.

Approximately 75,000 men, women and children in the state now contribute annually about $150,000 for the maintenance of the institution, which enables the Society to care for 1,500 to 2,000 children.

Each year a "palate" of every creed and belief—of all ages from babes in arms up to 16 years, from every county in the state. The hospital has become known as "Florida's Greatest Charity." Marcus Fagg, who has directed its work all of

Rubber Boots And Rubber Work Shoes Go On Ration List

New Order Became Effective Saturday, October 5th

Washington, Oct. 15.—The Office of Price Administration Tuesday ordered the rationing of rubber boots and rubber work shoes effective Oct. 5.

Effective at midnight Tuesday all such stocks on the shelves were ordered from until the rationing begins. Then the goods will be rationed on certificate only to men working on jobs essential to the war or to public health and safety.

Applications for certificates may be obtained from local rationing boards.

Women's and children's rubber boots and ordinary rubbers, articles, and gaiters are not affected by the freeze or the rationing orders. Reclaimed rubber is mostly used for tires.

This first government move into the field of clothing rationing affects six types of men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes because they require a high content of crude rubber and because of mounting demand among industrial and agricultural workers.

The almost immediate freezing order was designed to halt "before it began, any buyers' run on the stocks. The order was made public nine months before most shoes normally close for the day.

Florida Farmers Experience One Of Their Best Years

1942 Crop Year To Be Best In History of The State

Florida farmers will write 1942 down in their books as the best year in the history of the State. Prospects of the best citrus and sugar season ever known indicate that the agricultural cash income for 1942 will go over the $200,000,000 mark for the first time, exceeding last year's figure (without government payments) of $110,000,000 by 80 per cent.

Through July, farm cash income has been approximately 50 per cent ahead of last year.

Agriculture's share of the State's total income will probably be higher this year. It has been declining almost steadily since 1939 when it accounted for 12.3 per cent of a total net income of $654,000,000.

In 1939 the farmers' share of the State's total net income was only 7.7 per cent. Of the record 1941 billion-dollar income they received only 8.3 per cent.

Florida Valencia growers are expected to come into the market in mid-October and will inherit record prices for the early California producers. Competition with the California naval orange crop is expected to be hot.

A combination of good yields, high quality, and increased demand arising from greater consumer purchasing power, should make the 1942-43 season even more profitable than last year's which was the best since 1934.

More than 100,000 tons of Florida cane will go to sugar mills during the coming season, another record. Winter vegetable production will probably be slightly over last year because of material and labor shortages.

Rattle Snake Milk Is Valuable

Silver Springs, Oct. 15 (FNS)—Even the most unassuming and uninteresting, and honorable profession of "milkling" rattlers and other dangerous snakes for their venom is feeling the effects of this war.

Ross Allen, Florida's nationally known expert on rattlers, has a branch of his firm, Reptile Institute and Caiman Laboratory at Silver Springs, in Hialeah within the next few days.

The move was made necessary because of inability to secure garter and rattlesnakes for his usual work.

These years in known far and wide as "Daddy" Fagg: Civic Clubs; Jacksonville plan a birthday party to celebrate the Fortieth Birthday of the Children's Home Society of Florida. This event will take the form of a testimonial dinner at the George Washington Hotel in Jacksonville at 12:45, Monday, November 2, 1942. Civic leaders from all sections of the state will be invited to contribute to the great work of the remarkable organization over the years.

into arms that eventually find their way into army, navy, marine corps and air force hospitals throughout the world. He is prepared to pay from $25 to $100 for poisonous Florida reptiles, top price being offered for snakes over six feet in length, dead or alive.

President Grover Cleveland fished in Florida and his favorite spot was at Sewall's Point, in what is now Martin county.

Near or just south of Daytona is a famous pelican rookery where millions of pelicans gather in breeding season.

The first telephone in Florida was established in Jacksonville 63 years ago, in 1879.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay

Unfortunately, a men's election, don't think their main purpose is to cast their hair, or bellow to the multitudes from stump or platform. If they did, a lot of folks would pay more attention to them.

Unless an election is preceded by a brass band, torchlight procession, fish fry, oratorial bombast and fireworks, the average citizen is unimpressed.

But as far as the individual welfare and interest of the average citizen is concerned, the average citizen is unimpressed.

But as far as the individual welfare and interest of the average citizen is concerned, the average citizen is unimpressed.

The question it presents is so grave and so far reaching that every qualified voter should make it a point to study its provisions and be prepared to vote intelligently. Because this is a Democracy, you are given an opportunity to express your view. Think what that means. The ballot is the symbol of our liberty and freedom. If we fail to appreciate this blessing, fail to exercise this privilege, we may lose it as surely as have the people of many other countries.

In a sincere effort to solve the state's voting financial problem, your Governor and your Legislature have devised this plan to relieve the tax burden and at the same time provide a means of paying our indebtedness in the form of bond obligations for roads and bridges. They have done their work and done it well. Now it is up to you as the sovereign voter to assume your sacred duty as the citizen of this Democracy known bonds or special district road and bridge bonds.

It provides that two cents of the present gas tax be set aside each year for the next 50 years for the payment of road bonds.

At present, three cents is allocated for this purpose, but since the amount so allocated is being changed, increased or decreased by each legislature, it represents an unsatisfactory and unstable situation.

Payments are established and the indebtedness definitely provided for on the two-cent basis for a 50-year period, both taxpayers and bondholders will benefit while the state's financial structure will be materially strengthened.

Every taxpayer must surely realize that the burden or federal taxation must of necessity become increasingly heavy, therefore, anything that will tend to relieve local taxation during this trying period is of utmost importance.

Unfortunately, it is not possible to review all details of the plan in this column, but the voter should acquaint himself between now and the November election. At least, the voter should be fully acquainted with the required election notice, and practically every paper has run or will run full and complete information.

Should further information be desired, it will be supplied from the Governor, the Secretary of State, the Attorney General, or the State Controller, and your interest and inquiry will be welcomed.

There are nine amendments to be voted upon, I have confined discussion in this column to the one that is the most important and all have a bearing on your interests, and if you truly appreciate the advantages that citizenship in a Democracy affords you, you will cheerfully and gladly accept the attendant obligation and prepare yourself to perform your patriotic duty of voting next month.

Outstanding last Friday night was the splendid music and drills furnished by the Pahokee high school band. Robert O. Lampi, director, has another splendid group of young musicians who are determined to carry on the tradition established a year or two ago, of entertaining the spectators with their peppy music and intricate drills. Simmons Wilkinson, drum major, flanked by two high-peppy majorettes, Joan McLarty and Phyllis Belle, put the youngsters through their paces between halves much to the delight of everyone present.

Spectators were loud in their praise for the manner in which the winning team displayed its thoroughness and precision of play, learned in constant practice under the watchful eye of the new coach—Jack Boise. Pahokee may not win all scheduled games this season but it begins to look like the Blue Devils will win a fair share of the nine home games and three to be played on foreign fields.

The line-up of the Pahokee team last Friday night carried many names new to foot-ball fans. In these parts, these youngsters many of them were playing their first high school game and acquitted themselves like veterans.

The Telephone is VITAL to the Community Needs of this "War Busy" Nation

"You FIRST... Uncle Sam!"

This is the kind of spirit we all must show if we are to keep vital long distance telephone lines clear for urgent war calls. Never before have long distance lines been so busy and played to vital a role in our nation's history.

But war calls are not the only calls. Calls by civilians and non-war businesses—calls that are not always necessary—are also increasing. The result is crowding of long distance lines and equipment, threatening war calls with serious delays.

YOU can help over this threat to vital war communications by beginning now to voluntarily restrict your use of long distance. There is urgent need now for a special effort to avoid making "long haul" calls. The greater the distance you talk the greater the possibility of delaying vital war calls, because the "long haul" lines are the most heavily crowded with war business.
